

Brent Knoll

C of E Primary School

Let Your Light Shine

Newsletter

Friday 18th October 2024

Dear Parents/Carers As we come to the end of the first term, I would like to say thank you for the support that you have provided to the children. A real highlight has been all the Tudor-themed 'homework' brought into Kingston Class. There is now a terrific display of Tudor homes and artwork, all of which will be on display at the end of next week. Kind regards, Chris Burman

PS Just a reminder that the term ends next Thursday, and that Term 2 begins on Monday, 4th November.

Mrs Bond's textile group (photos right) have been working really hard this term and the members have produced some beautiful work in the form of stuffed pin cushions. The girls have learnt some new skills which can be really appreciated in their work. It was also a great way to develop friendships as well.

We are now planning clubs for the next couple of terms, so please let us know what you might think the children would enjoy.

As you may know, we now have a Friends of Brent Knoll fundraising group, and the first event they have organised is a 'Crazy Hair Day' for next Wednesday. All proceeds will go towards new school resources. Please do ask if you would like to join the group or would like to know more about their plans.

Current attendance remains at a very good rate of 96.3%. Well done again to all those who made it in every day this week.

A very well done to our girls' football team (photo left), which travelled to Bridgwater College yesterday in order to take part in the Sedgemoor area challenge. This was a great squad and they played with great enthusiasm and skill. The girls played several games, mainly against teams from much larger schools, such as Hamp Academy and St. Joseph's. Despite a couple of early losses, the team went on to draw against Hamp, then defeated St John and St Francis school. Many thanks to Mrs Piper for volunteering her time so that the trip could take place. Further games against Berrow and St. Andrew's, who were both at the tournament, are now being planned.